FEATURED EXHIBITIONS 2015-2017

GLADIATORS - DEATH AND GLORY

June 13 to September 7, 2015

The image of the gladiator as a looms large in popular culture. But who these professional fighters and what kind existence did they lead in the shadow of the Colosseum, their greatest fighting arena? Explore their multifaceted lives and discover the real story behind this legacy of the Roman Empire.

An exhibition developed by the Contemporanea Progetti and Expona and presented by the Canadian War Museum.

WOMEN IN WAR

October 23, 2015 to March 13, 2016

Canadian women were as implicated as Canadian men in war and conflict in the 20th and early 21st centuries, but often in very different ways. The exhibition will cover an important 100-year period and will highlight what women did during war and conflict both at home and overseas, why they did it and what it meant to them and those around them, as well as the larger Canadian society.

AIR WAR

May to February 2017

The First World War saw the first large-scale military use of aircraft and was the first major war fought in three dimensions. Air War answers the question "Why did we fight in the air?" by exploring Canada's contributions to new technologies and strategies such as aerial observation, artillery spotting, ground support and the dogfights that contributed significantly to the outcome of the war.

Air War is presented with generous support from Raytheon Canada Limited.

VIMY 1917

April 2017 to January 2018

Vimy 1917 explores the impact and influence of the war on its combatants specifically focusing on the nature and meaning of the Battle of Vimy Ridge. The exhibition will examine the Battle in the context of the global conflict and will chart how the Vimy site and its memorial have come to represent the Canadian experience and legacy of the First World War.
