Biographical Sketch:

Ludwig Kosche was born in Bremen on August 5, 1929 and arrived in Ottawa in 1950. He spent several years working in Sarnia and Timmins, Ontario. As a mature student, he received a B.A. and M.A. in history and a MLS degree. He served as librarian at the Canadian War Museum from 1973 until he retired in 1985 to pursue a further career in historical research. He was a regular contributor to a number of historical journals and periodicals, and was a well-respected specialist in the history of the Second World War. Ludwig was also an avid audiophile and his enjoyment, participation in, and his contribution to the knowledge of classical music was highly regarded. Ludwig Kosche passed away on May 17 2000 in Ottawa Ontario, Canada.

In 1971 the Canadian War Museum acquired a Mercedes-Benz touring car which had been restored but not to perfection. It was said to have been used by Hermann Goering but there remained the possibility that it had been Adolf Hitler's. Mr. Kosche became interested in the issue and as a consequence undertook extensive research on this car and on the large Mercedes-Benz cars in general. The research was conducted privately and the results were published in German and English language magazines. He also hoped to write a book on the subject some day.

Language: the majority of the textual material in the fond is in English with some German.

Scope and Content: This collection of 10 boxes of material represents just two of Ludwig Kosche's research passions: the Mercedes-Benz cars used by Hitler and the Third Reich, and Sir Isaac Brock, his coatee and portraits. The collection consists of Kosche's original correspondence with various individuals and institutions along with photocopies of original documents from a variety of institutions.

When the National Archives of Canada closed its museum, it transferred artifacts of military interest to the Canadian War Museum. Included were relics of Sir Isaac Brock, including the coatee he was said to have been wearing when he was killed at the Battle of Queenston Heights in October 1812. In addition, there were portraits purported to be likenesses of Brock in Canadian museums but about which there was some doubt. Kosche set about to prove without doubt the authenticity of these relics and portraits and wrote papers based on the results of his research.

Arrangement: This finding aid has been arranged numerically by file number within two distinct categories – Mercedes-Benz Cars of the Third Reich and Sir Isaac Brock and the War of 1812. A list of Mr. Kosche's principal correspondents is also included at the end, arranged alphabetically.
